Katrin Paper Towels

Putting hand drying to the test

Why paper towels are the best solution for drying your hands.

Illness and the resulting work absences have a massive cost to society and businesses each year. Most often, bacteria and viruses are the culprits. *'Hands are one of the leading vehicles for infectious agents.'*¹ Yet there is a simple method with a proven, superior ability to halt the spread of infections: washing your hands with warm water and liquid or foam soap. And above all – drying your hands with paper towels.

For Katrin, hygiene and cleanliness are key to effective washroom management. The optimally co-ordinated dispensers and paper are perfectly suited for use in washrooms of all types. The robust, locking dispensers permit hygienic dispensing of paper towels, while the ingenious Katrin technology ensures that the paper towels are the right size, enormously absorbent and economical as well.

Hygiene and health go hand in hand.

'An air-dryer can transmit potentially infectious micro-organisms on a user's hands and on the device to the surroundings and to other washroom users located up to 2 metres away.'²

When it comes to hand-drying with paper towels, the mechanical friction can eliminate additional bacteria.

Bacteria reduction in percent:¹

Paper towels and rolls	24% reduction
Textile roll	4% reduction
Blow-dryer	117% increase

Users' opinions:

96% consider paper towels to be the most hygienic solution³

50% saw that paper towels are the most effective at drying the hands³

68% say a paper towel is the quickest way to dry the hands³

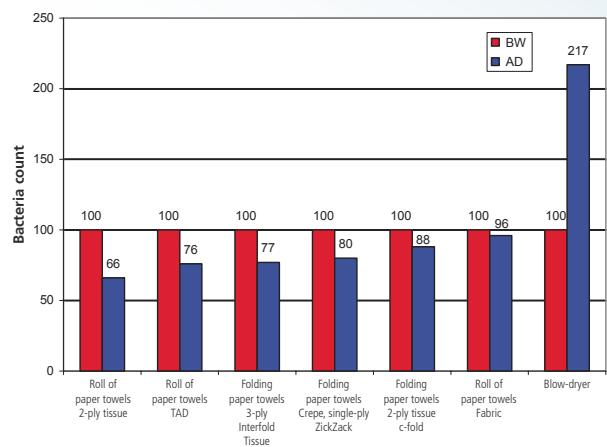

Hygienic solution:

- Surveys and studies have found that blow-dryers increase the number of bacteria on the hands. This is why when deciding on a drying system the emphasis should be on the hygienic benefits of paper towels.¹
- High-quality, hypoallergenically tested paper towels dry the hands by absorbing moisture and removing unwanted microbes; they are kind to skin at the same time, even for users with particularly sensitive skin.

Economical solution:

- Saves the materials used! Intelligent dosing and high absorbency reduce consumption.
- Economically very efficient: Low storage or internal transports, time saving during refills and fewer residues to dispose of.

Mean values of total number of bacteria on the hands before washing (BW) and after washing and drying (AD), in percent¹

Environmentally friendly solution:

Environmentally certified plants and products bearing the Scandinavian "Nordic Ecolabel (Swan)" fulfil the requirements for sustainable development.

Katrin recommends:

- Choose a solution that is hygienic, economical and environmentally friendly.
- Wash your hands regularly with soap and water and dry them thoroughly with a paper towel.

Katrin Folding Paper Towels

Hand hygiene with sustainable benefits

Whether non-stop, one-stop or C-fold: Studies have shown that high-quality, hypoallergenic-tested paper towels not only dry hands by absorbing the moisture, but that up to 24% more bacteria are eliminated through mechanical friction. For Katrin, this was an important motivation to redouble its efforts to promote hand drying through hygienic removal of paper towels with the aid of functional dispensing systems. Katrin folding paper towels feature good skin compatibility. With extremely absorbent sheets in just the right size, usually a single paper towel is all it takes. This makes them economical to use, reducing purchasing, storage, handling and operating costs.

Katrin industrial wipes and industrial roll dispensers

For all surfaces

In industrial workplaces, employees need paper towels and dispensers that can withstand the demands of professional use. The requirements of various industrial drying products are often complex – after all, a single cloth can't meet all the needs of industry. The products should be suitable for cleaning, wiping and polishing – and versatile enough for use on a variety of surfaces and with a range of types of impurities. That's why Katrin has developed different towels for various professional requirements. As important as it is to keep machinery and equipment in good working order, it is just as important to give employees the means to protect their hands and to keep them free of dirt, oil, grease and chemicals.

Wipe, clean, polish – the main areas of application:

The green side of Katrin

Our standard for quality and the environment

Sustainability is an important criterion that moves many consumers to select the products that enhance their own environmental awareness while and support environmentally friendly behaviour. As a leading European manufacturer of paper products and a name producer of cleaning and hygiene systems, we look after the well-being of our customers, employees and our environment in multiple ways. We advise our partners so that, together, we can find sustainable solutions and ensure that our own resources, the extraction of raw materials, production and logistics are all run in a sustainable fashion.

Environmental management by Katrin

Raw-materials and supplier management

We obtain most of the wood used in our primary fibres from sustainably managed northern forests. We are committed to responsible CoC forest management and reliable forest certifications such as PEFC or FSC. This is how we secure a sustainable supply of raw materials to our plants and the delivery of recyclable products to our customers.

Resource efficiency and energy management

Our ambitious goals for day-to-day execution within the production chain are to maintain biodiversity; to reduce process water, fossil CO₂ emissions and waste; and to improve energy efficiency at the same time.

Employees and society

People's well-being and safety are particularly important to us at Katrin. Ethical business practices are our top priority; open and transparent communication are important to us in this regard. We act responsibly, and by doing so we want to improve the quality of life for all of our stakeholders.

Sustainable choice

All our products are sustainable alternatives to many CO₂-intensive products and raw materials – an all-round ecological footprint, from forests to delivery to recycling.

A systematic approach to quality management

A fundamental principle for Katrin is to maintain process-oriented systems for quality management that run through all our business processes. Our production facilities are ISO 14001- and ISO 9001-certified.

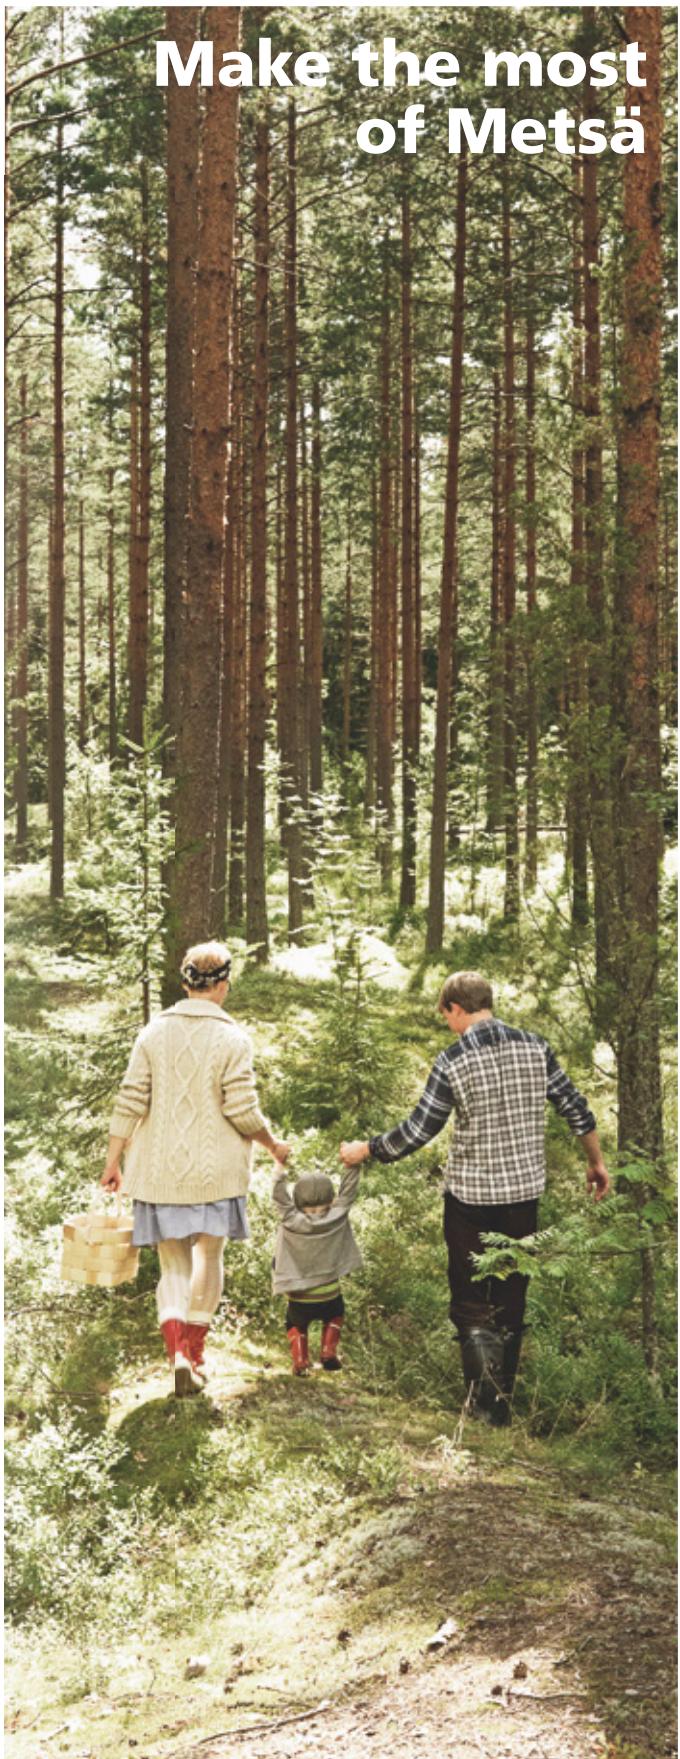

Certified eco-quality

We optimize our products with the aid of certified environmental-management systems. We have been certified with both the Nordic Ecolabel (Swan) as well as the EU Ecolabel (EU Flower). Both approvals are characterised by their particularly strict requirements and their broad view of environmental problems.
